Description

Charming glazed terracotta sculpture depicting a young sailor from Normandy, dressed in a blue raincoat, traditional clogs, and a yellow cap.

Created by the renowned Faïencerie de Bavent, this piece is a beautiful example of 20th-century Norman folk art. The glass eyes add a lifelike quality to the figure, while the crackled glaze effect enhances the authenticity and character of this delightful piece.

The sculpture is set on a painted wooden base, adding a refined touch to this decorative object.

The works of the Faïencerie de Bavent are celebrated for their craftsmanship and detail, and this young fisherman is a perfect illustration of their expertise.
