Description

Rare pair of large bottle cooler from the 19th century, Louis XVI style, in bronze and silver metal. The base is decorated with a garland of intertwined vine leaves, surmounted by 3 ribbon cartridges (one of which is engraved), the central part is composed of 3 atlases in silvered bronze, (the one missing has been redone identical), supporting a cylindrical part decorated with engraved plates decorated with allegories of arts and commerce, in cartridges with a double frieze of pearls. The summit takes up the decoration of a vine leaf frieze. Taken in the shape of a ram's head and foliage. The top of one of the coolers was formerly enlarged to receive a larger bottle (Champagne), a ribbon cartridge is dented, the whole is in good condition, very rare model! Total dimensions of each height 35 cm, width 20
