Description

Beautiful full-size terracotta skull presented in its display case, the base of which is in wood painted in faux marble and the top is pyramid-shaped. this skull forming a mori memento or vanity is a beautiful and rather surprising collector's item. it dates from the 19th century, was restored from a piece on the underside in the 20th century and is in very good condition.

It has a very beautiful patina, the set with the showcase and the base is quite spectacular and the whole dates from the 19th century. a very beautiful, rare and very decorative object that recalls certain decorations in churches in Italy or in eastern Europe. sometimes also used in Masonic rites.

today a beautiful terracotta sculpture ideal for decorating a cabinet of curiosities.
