Description

This original chest of drawers in mahogany and mahogany veneer was made in the middle of the 19th century. The peculiarities of this piece of furniture are the opening by the tray giving way to a large toilet space, and its leather covered zipper giving way to an office space. The interior is in white marble, the interior tray is fitted with a large original mirror (mercury wear). The top opens and remains open thanks to a square and a brass button. The opening angle is varied, as desired. Two drawers open on the front. This dresser is in good condition, note the natural mercury wear of the mirror and the leather. Dimensions: 86cm wide, 51cm deep and 88cm high. The total height with the top open is 133cm.
