Description

authentic poster from 1900 celebrates the city of Vichy in the context of the promotion of PLM railways. We owe it to the major artist Taconville. It depicts a scene from the very chic life of the Parc des Sources and its thermal baths, its Napoleon hotel, its luxury stores ... In the shade of the chestnut trees, a man in a madder red uniform gives a gift to a little girl. girl: it is undoubtedly an officer of the military hospital. The choice of this model will not surprise those who know the life of Taconville, who was himself the son of an officer and judge. good general condition some small stains on the lower part framed poster and put under glass
