Description

SAN JUAN IN PATMOS WITH DONOR, SS.
XVI-XVII Beautiful relief, probably from a choir stall, represents the evangelist Saint John receiving the revelations of the Apocalypse on the island of Patmos. Accompanied by a bishop or a mitred abbot as donor. This scene presents an unusual iconography. Sculpture made with care and expressive force that we place in the last years of the 16th century or at the beginning of the 17th. Measures 38'5 x 31 cm. Rear frame.
