Description

This luminous Mountain Landscape reflects all the force of the feeling of Nature, specific to Northern Romanticism in the suite of Caspar Friedrich and Joseph Anton Koch. Although realistic and classic, our painting projects a fantastic vision of the grandiose landscape dominated by the little shepherd in conference with his dog. This painting which can be dated to the 1840s belongs to the "Golden Age" of Danish Painting "ref: L'ÂGE D'OR de la Peinture Danoise Petit Palais, Paris, from September 18, 2020 Niels Grønbek Rademacher 1812 (Denemark) -1885 (Estonie)
