Description

Beautiful old painting, pastel on paper in an oval, signed lower left Monseret (Jean Pierre) representing the portrait of Madame Maxence Lézida Turrel at 32, painted by the artist in Ornaisons in the Aude. Solemn portrait of a beautiful young woman with a simple and intense gaze. Interesting document on the back of the table relating the dates and participants in the model pose session. Maxence Lézida Turrel was the wife of Minister Adolphe Napoléon Turrel. A native of Luc-sur-Orbien, Jean Pierre Monseret painted the Audoise aristocracy in the middle of the 19th century, many portraits are exhibited in the museums of Occitanie (Narbonne / Montpellier / Aix) In its black wooden key frame and gilded, under glass (white marks due to reflections from the glass) the whole in good
