Lucien Génin was at first a pupil of the School of Fine Arts of Rouen, then in 1919 Lucien Génin is allowed in the school of the Decorative arts of Paris. In 1932 Lucien Génin received a prize of the Art Institute of Chicago . On 1960 a personal exhibition of its works is organized in Paris. Lucien Génin painted in the oil and in the gouache. Lucien Génin received a very complete formation, but developed a personal technique quite in spontaneity with an innocent glance on the simple things of the life. Lucien Génin mainly painted in Paris, but some views of Rouen, Lorient, Dinan, Marseille or Villefranche-sur-mer are to be noted . Lucien Génin totally specialized in the very wanted theme of the views of Paris. Lucien Génin painted with paints touches extremely fast and easy , what explains a very plentiful production.
