

XII-xiiiith Large Medieval Terracotta Pitcher Ptd Crest

2 900 EUR

Signature : Saintonge ?

Period : Before 16th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Terracotta

Diameter : 25cm

Height : 38cm !!!

Description

Stunning, very large and curious medieval terracotta pitcher, with relief pastillage lines and painted green crest on each side. Excavation patina with significant traces of concretions inside the collar.

Found in a pond or mare, as sediments and concretions might suggest? !!!

Condition: I've detected any defects or anomalies suggesting a possible restoration (-which could nevertheless be understandable regard sizes !). The concretions inside, for example, attest well that the pitcher top is in its original state. The handles and collar also seem miraculously unscathed.
