Description

Imposing sideboard with two bodies in solid walnut from the 18th century. This very high model has the particularity of having the high and low door panels replaced by windows, this old transformation was certainly carried out in the 19th century with old bubbled and irregular windows.

This large cabinet (height 308 cm) deserves to go to a cabinetmaking workshop to make it look superb (a rear leg has been well redone, the top of the lower part needs to be reinforced, the weight of the part high having accommodated large books for decades has done its work)

Dimensions height 308 cm (lower part 100 cm), length 150 cm (upper part 118 cm), depth 54 cm
