980 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Length : au dos : 80 cm

Width : épaules : 35 cm

Description

Astonishing rain coat, native to Asia, China or Japan, many period photos show both of these populations wearing it.

On the other hand we can notice, see photos that regardless of the social level, everyone wore this raincoat of the time.

Braided in palm fiber, consisting of a skirt held in place by two straps at the front in braided palm sewn on a hood with shoulders, two cords at the collar and two cords at the waist as a clasp.

Ten folds of seams are visible on the back inside for a good hold of the whole

Dimensions: Length at the back: 80 cm Width at the shoulders: 35 cm,

Dimensions which lets us think that this rain coat certainly belonged to a child or to a person, women? of small size.
