Description

Superb and large mirror in Louis XIV style from the Dauphiné early 18th century. Rectangular in shape, it is adorned all around with a fine marquetry. the patterns of this marquetry represent geometric shapes around the edges and interlacing acanthus leaves and volutes on the rest and the mirror is framed by a blackened wood molding. Very high quality Dauphiné work with a remarkable finesse of the parquetry that we can happily define as being in the taste of the famous cabinetmaker HACHE.
