Description

Height 3m14, Large Window Door In Stained Glass With Transom, Stained Glass, Around 1900

" Exceptional window with transom, both in traditional stained glass, made around 1900. It is a huge room divided into two parts (door / window and transom: total height with transom 3m14) sold with all of its frames and original frames. Magnificent craftsmanship, this window can be very easily transformed into a double door with some slight modifications to the low joinery. Another important aspect: the transom can be independent and therefore be installed as a decorative element in a completely different location than the French window, thus allowing a multitude of interior decoration solutions and options. This magnificent set is in good general condition, note 2 damaged tiles in the transom
