Description

Oil on canvas depicting an animated scene in an undergrowth, meeting a hunter accompanied by his dogs, a fagotière and a gentleman around a fire. Very beautiful representation of an autumnal atmosphere, at dusk. The fading light of a late afternoon is beautifully contrasted by the depth and richness of the fall colors, as well as by the friendly atmosphere that emerges from the group of figures. The bare trees with twisting branches and trunks covered with ivy are extremely realistic. This painting is signed lower right, but the signature remains to be deciphered. It is similar to the atmosphere of the paintings of the Barbizon School, and is presented in a contemporary setting with golden tones, the whole is in very good condition.
