

Antique Parisian Earthenware Pharmacy Jar

250 EUR

Signature : Acloque

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon

Material : Earthenware

Diameter : 12 cm

Height : 24 cm

Description

Cylindrical jar with its lid and signed on the bottom: ACLOQUE fils, rue de la Barillerie, n° 22 in Paris. With the number 15 This early 19th century pharmacy jar bears the inscription Ong. Populeum in the center of a wreath of roses, which indicates that it was intended to contain a medicine or ointment, derived from the poplar leaf. This pot is in very good condition with a few very small chips on the edge. Paris, early 19th century. Circa 1810 or end of the 18th century. Document: Les Pots de Pharmacie, Charles Massin editor, 1998.

Dealer

Laurent Oïffer-Bonsel

Fine objects and Collector's objects...

Mobile : +33 6 80 15 84 82

22 rue de Beaune

Paris 75007