landscapes. The artist is never satisfied and experiments with several styles that confront realism then abstract landscaping and the simplification of forms until the explosion of colors.

In 1958, the artist left India for Europe, and traveled in particular to Holland, England and Belgium. When he returned a few years later his style had totally changed. He exhibited at Jehangir Art Gallery in 1962 and at the Taj Art Gallery in 1970.

In July 1971, 40 of his works were exhibited at India House in London.

A retrospective in January 2020 was organized in Mumbai. To see on YouTube.

His works are notably presented at The Rajya Sabha in New Delhi, the Tata Institute of Fundamental Research and the CSMVS Museum in Bombay
