

Pitcher

180 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Ceramic

Diameter : 7,5 cm

Height : 14 cm

Description

Interesting "misleading" pitcher from the first half of the 19th century. Decor on the neck of the pitcher of a bird. Several holes requiring a particular position of the fingers to plug them, then allows to drink thanks to the bird without spilling liquid, hence the term "surprise or misleading pitcher". Note a small chip on the tail and the beak of the bird.

Dealer

Antiquités Olivier JANET

Généraliste 18/19 ème- Objets de collection et de curiosité.

Mobile : 06 81 08 42 50

02 rue des luisettes

Gennes 49350