Description

Chest of drawers with 3 rows of three drawers in walnut called "Parizienne". Indeed this model of chest of drawers was almost always in the Ile de France. It is from the 18th century, from the Louis XV period. The drawers are really molded like all these chests of drawers. Our, we can located at the beginning of the reign of Louis XV because similar models existed under the Regency. The feet are curved, the bottom crossbar scalloped as well as the crossbars. on the sides, the side panels are molded. The peculiarity to note is that the first rows of drawers are divided into 3 parts and that the central drawer, smaller, is hidden by the 2 others overlapping it so this drawer is considered as a secret. The bottoms of the drawers are in beech. A beautiful ornamentation of gilded bronzes (handles,
