Description

Charming subject of a young boy and his basket filled with bronze eggs. The child, a cap on his head, holds a walking stick in his right hand, a wicker basket filled with eggs on his left arm, while with his right hand he holds a strap that supports a basket on his back. This hood in the form of an open eggshell serves as a small receptacle, it is fixed in the back by a screw; a second in the lower part is missing, but it remains solid. Only the hood and the strap are in brass, the rest of the subject is in bronze. Beautiful shine of bronze, small oxidations visible in the hollows. Do not hesitate to contact me for more details. Note: an interesting subject. Delivery: 10 EUR for metropolitan France.
