Description

This exquisite watercolor study by Alexandre Charles Guillemot depicts Christ Appearing to the Three Marys, based on the original painting housed at the Granet Museum in Aix-en-Provence. Guillemot, a renowned 19th-century French artist, captures this profound biblical scene with remarkable sensitivity and attention to detail.

The piece is presented in its original period frame, which requires some restoration, and retains its original glass, adding to its authenticity and historical value. The delicate rendering of the figures and the luminous use of watercolor reflect Guillemot's mastery in conveying emotion and spirituality.
