Description

Rider on horseback, stationary, in terracotta.
China, Ming period (1368-1644). 17th century.
Represented on a rectangular terrace, the horse is harnessed and its head is turned slightly to the side. We can appreciate the finesse of the whole. Many details are present and the colors are always perceptible. The rider's head is removable and is placed on the body. Immaculate condition. Neither broken nor reattached. H: 41 cm.
