Description

Important portrait of a man in the twilight and his face lit up, his gaze raised to the sky, perhaps a philosopher or a saint! our portrait dates from the 19th century and has a signature that is difficult to decipher at the bottom left with a date.

the portrait is very well treated, borrowed from emotion and spirituality, this man seems to receive an illumination.

it is an oil on canvas in good condition re-lined in the twentieth century.

the frame is carved in polychrome and gilded wood with radiant decoration and decorated with angels' heads, at the top, at the bottom and on the sides.

the sculptures are very naïve and recall certain settings from the Spanish Renaissance.

it is a beautiful decorative frame all in carved,
