Description

Important polychrome terracotta representing an oriental woman of warrior tribe, perhaps a Berber woman or a Tuareg woman, it would be interesting to define it.
she is proudly represented and exudes a presence loaded with a strong personality.
The clothes loaded with many details and jewelry she wears a dagger prominently at the waist and a large fur cape falls over her shoulders.
details abound and leave room for the imagination. This large terracotta is of very good quality and the original polychromy reveals habits and customs from another age.
a very beautiful realization in the spirit of Goldsheider, but bearing the mark P and C below the terrace with the number 112.
a very beautiful terracotta from the second half of
