Description

French sewing table from the second half of the 1800s, made of solid mahogany and walnut burl.

The turned legs have a twisted shape and end on curled feet.

The solid mahogany top is plated in the upper part with walnut burl.

By opening the lid, you enter a compartment divided into small compartments with a red velvet pincushion in the center.

The wavy front, also in briar walnut, is completed by another drawer with lock and key.

Restored and polished with shellac internally and externally.
