Description

Beautiful game table from the middle of the 18th century in walnut wood and veneered with various woods on which were made inlays of vegetable scrolls in maple wood.

The table has a large drawer and a top that can be opened like a notebook, where the green playmat has been placed in the center, with concavities at the corners to rest the chips and placed alternately to create a nice movement on the surface.

The cabinet is in the first state of patina and needs a polishing and a little restoration, which we will include in the asking price, so at the time of delivery the cabinet will be finished and ready to be positioned.

The dimensions are: 74 cm long x 75 cm high x 37 cm deep for the closed roof and 74 cm for the
