Description

Beautiful Swing Shutter Panel in richly worked wood with geometric patterns of flowers, rosettes or intersecting stars forming an open grid or moucharabieh; mounted on a very beautiful frame with a period assembly with tenons, mortises, large nails, forged fittings and wooden dowels.
 Work from Yemen, certainly from the city of Sanaa **
XVI-XVIIth Century.
The object is in used condition and with the patina of time, but really beautiful (you will notice the traces of old polychromy, in particular blue).
 Lots of character for this swing panel for which I fell in love **
