Description

Rare Louis XV period Commode-Buffet. First quarter of the 18th century. Origin Bressane. The lower part is a chest of drawers of very generous proportions. It opens with three large drawers. The upper part opens with two doors on an interior accommodating two shelves. The set is entirely original and not a reassembly of two elements. The facade has many turbulent moldings and several sculpted elements. The four front uprights are scoured with identical moldings. The low cross members are scalloped. The sides are double molded panels. The exterior is painted in light gray with off-white re-champé. The interior is painted blue. Dimensions: L 143.5 x D 70.5 x H 236
