Description

A pretty scene of charm and seduction from the Regency period, according to Jean Raoux (1677-1734) called "The duo" where the "Dangerous lesson" ... A young music master plays a tune on his guitar making sing a young woman holding her musical score, faces not far away with troubled gazes towards one another ... Scene of two charming characters with elegant and subtle presence, seductive and modest; scene evocative of the exceptional work of Jean Raoux. His remarkable portraits, characters, colors, lights and shadows, attitudes and movements mark the work of this great master, pupil of Antoine Ranc, Prix de Rome, marking painting from the end of the 17th century to the beginning of the 18th. Born in Montpellier. dcd in Paris. (1677-1734) Painting in excellent condition, on its original
