Description

RENOUARD Paul (1845-1924) Like Degas, the attraction of the backstage of the Garnier opera inspired him all his life as a painter and illustrator. Our set of four beautiful drawings showing the change of the young girl from her simplicity to become the image of a young singer or actress in costume for her entry into the "world". Famous for his series illustrated in black and white on the Garnier opera, the Dreyffus affair, the coronation of Edward VII etc. his work is present in various French and foreign museums. / Drawings in black chalk, signed and dated 1882; the four drawings framed are sold as a set.
