Description

Panetière Provençale

Beautiful curved nineteenth facade, Very good quality of the carved patterns on the door as well as on the high and low rails: Flowers and foliage on a background of squared patterns. It opens with a fan in the center and on either side a row of tapered balusters. Beautiful patina on a waxed walnut wood. Part of the sides, the bottoms and the bobechees are posterior. (See Photos)

The bread pan was originally used as a pantry. We placed the bread that we made at home and that could be kept for several days.
