Description

Interesting painting representing Saint Ignace De Loyola seated at his desk writing and receiving the holy spirit he is tonsured and dressed as a monk, and seems to be writing a work dictated to him by the holy spirit.

He was the creator of the Jesus Compagnie, la compagnie de Jésus, as you can see the different inscriptions IHS on the painting.

he is surrounded by 5 angels including three in clouds and two others at his side, the faces are really charming. a beautiful composition around the holy character with colors that have remained fresh!

a very nice painting from the 18th century on its original canvas.

Look closely at the details there are symbols all
