PROANTIC
LE PLUS BEAU CATALOGUE D'ANTIQUITES

Bust Of Divinity, Chandraketugarh, North India, Shunga, 1st Before - 1st Century After Jc

600 EUR

Period : Before 16th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Terracotta

Width : 9,3 cm

Height : 13 cm

Description

Bust of a mother goddess with generous breasts wearing a fan-shaped headdress decorated with patterns probably evoking Hindu symbols. She wears a necklace and two different ear ornaments on each one. Orange terracotta with scattered traces of limestone concretions. Slight surface wear, some chips. Lack of restoration, good general state of conservation Chandraketugarh, Kingdom of the Shunga, north-eastern India around 1st century BC - 1st century AD "The Shunga or Sunga are a Hindu dynasty which reigns over part of eastern India after the dissolution of the Mauryan Empire, from around 185 to 73 BC Dimensions: 9.2 x 9.3 cm, with base h: 13 cm Provenance: Former Drouot Paris sale. Sold with base and certificate of authenticity. Shipping costs on request.

Dealer

GALERIE OCARINA

Art précolombien, Archéologie, Arts premiers

Mobile : 0630229738

15 grand rue

Issigeac 24560