

Old Palm Holder In Bronze With Long Branch Of Lily Flowers XIX Ct

500 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : En l'état

Height : 120

Description

Bronze palm-holder, adorned with an iron stem covered with brass leaves and fleur-de-lis flowers.

A fine decorative piece showcasing particularly meticulous metalwork. The bronze base supports an iron stem delicately clad with finely cut leaves and brass fleur-de-lis flowers.

Good overall condition; however, the stem appears to have been cut at the top (see last photo). Also note the absence of two or three pistils in the centre of the flowers.
