Description

Piece of furniture in two parts forming a buffet with hidden secretary and bookcase. From the Napoleon III period, this piece of furniture is in oak veneer. Rosewood and thuja burl veneer. Superb rendering contrasting and out of the ordinary. The storage sideboard section opens onto two doors with a shelf and a low plinth drawer. The secretary scriban part is hidden in the top drawer. You have to press the small latches so that the tray tilts and pulls out, freeing up a workspace with storage and drawers. Finally, the library part opens with two doors on 4 shelves forming 5 shelves in total (possibility of modulating the height between the shelves). Dimensions of shelves 33 * 118 cm, which makes almost 6m of linear storage !! Very good condition, all locks and keys work. Some very
