Description

This exquisite mantel clock is a testament to the refined aesthetic and masterful craftsmanship of the Louis XVI style in 19th-century France.

Attributed to Fabrege à Montpellier, a renowned clockmaker of the period, this timepiece showcases a harmonious blend of form and function, typical of the style, with a strong emphasis on classical motifs and decorative elements.

The centerpiece of the clock is a captivating bronze sculpture depicting a seated woman, likely a muse or a classical figure. The figure is meticulously cast with flowing drapery and delicate features, showcasing the exceptional skill of the artisan. She appears lost in contemplation as she reads a book, creating a sense of quiet elegance.

The clock rests on a rectangular base crafted from malachite, a luxurious and richly colored stone that adds a touch of opulence and a striking contrast to the bronze figure. The malachite base is further embellished with gilded bronze mounts, featuring intricate motifs of acanthus leaves, floral swags, and delicate beading, showcasing the exceptional skill of the artisans involved.

Key Features:

Louis XVI Style: The clock exemplifies the elegance and restraint of the Louis XVI style, a period celebrated for its neoclassical influences and refined aesthetic.

Attributed to Fabrege à Montpellier: The attribution to Fabrege à Montpellier lends significant historical and artistic value to the clock.

Intricate Craftsmanship: The meticulous casting of the bronze figure, the intricate detailing of the mounts, and the selection of high-quality malachite demonstrate the exceptional skill of the artisans involved.

Gilded Bronze and Malachite: The combination of these luxurious materials creates a visually striking and opulent effect.

Decorative Potential: This clock would make a stunning addition to any grand residence, serving as a centerpiece on a mantelpiece, console table, or as part of a larger display.
