Description

EDOUARD FEBVRE (1885-1967) LES ROULOTTES GITANES dimensions: 55 cm x 46 cm two oils on canvas representing gypsy caravans To restore Edouard FEBVRE is a French painter, watercolourist, pastellist and engraver born in 1885 and died in 1967. Passionate about the world of travelers, he has delivered a work where trailers and gypsies roam in an atmosphere and frames that restore the misery and the pride, the gaiety and the nostagic melancholy of his models. The Paris of the poor, the fortifications, the area, Montmartre also captivated him, and his canvases in a deceptively naive fashion give dignity and poetry to the harsh daily poverty.
