Description

Solid walnut bookcase with black beaded fluting on the uprights. It includes two sun patterns in mahogany and cherry veneered on raised panels (bottom of the doors). Conversely, the triangle motif in mahogany and cherry is inlaid on the upper part of the crosspiece. In the upper and lower part the box is enhanced by a slight molding complaint. The original glasses are bevelled The five shelves inlaid on amaranth, boxwood and ebony fillet are adjustable (one of them includes two hanging drawers). The six panels are framed paneled. The feet are sheathed and turned. The lock is a rack. The handles are in yellow bronze in chiseled geometric shape and have its original key. They form a single element with the keyholes. It is rare to find in the Art Deco period a closed bookcase of small
