1 600 EUR

Period : 17th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Painted wood

Height : 97 cm

Description

This large polychrome wood sculpture from the end of the 17th century is a representation of Saint Agnes.

Usually represented with a lamb in his arms, we can guess the former presence with the trace on the chest.

She is dressed in a long vermilion red belted tunic, with a round neck and pleats falling in parallel, over which is thrown a blue green cape. Her long-necked face is framed by her long hair with braids falling down either side of each shoulder.

His shod feet rest on a sculpted plinth.

Large, enhanced by a steel support, this sculpture is very decorative.

Lacks due to centuries.
