Description

Charming bronze clock from the second half of the 19th century, surmounted by a statue of a rooster. The mechanism is inscribed in a fluted column, its dial is in porcelain decorated with hand-painted roses. Note a small accident e low at the level of 7. It rests on a square base itself supported on four small ball feet. Our pendulum is sold without key and without its balance, we were not able to check the state of the mechanism (functioning). It will therefore certainly have to be revised.
