Description

The vase in question is an elegant piece belonging to the "Carnival" collection of the famous glassmaker Seguso Murano. The "Carnival" collection was created between 1987 and 1989, so the work in question can be dated to the late 1980s or so. The vase is in blown Murano glass, to characterize the uniqueness of the room are the vibrant colors of blue, red and yellow, embellished with the use of gold powder, which creates a suggestive texture of shapes and colors. The state of conservation of the work is excellent, and on the bottom of the base is the engraved signature of Archimedes Seguso Murano.
