Description

Joseph Bernard ARTIGUE (1859-1936)
French painter, friend of the great post-impressionist Henri Martin, he can be classified in the category of pointillist painters.

our canvas was designed as a triptych (in three parts). It is a completed sketch.

"We can say that towards the beginning of the 20th century, B.-J. Artigue in the company of Emile Bernard, Henri Martin, Seurat, Signac, was one of the forty main French artists received throughout the world, an artist among the most significant of its time. " (René Rouquier, poet).

He was a pupil of Jean-Paul Laurens in Paris.
Then worked mainly in the Toulouse region. He
