Description

Eugène and Alice CHANAL (Eugène 1872-1925 - Alice 1872-1951) are first creators of jewelry, goldsmith and brassware.

After the 1914-18 war they dedicated themselves to making pewter objects.

They exhibit regularly, in particular at the independent trade fair.

These 2 designers belong to the so-called organic movement, such as the Catalan architect GAUDI whose style is based on the observation of nature.

Liquor set consisting of a triangular tray and 6 small pewter liqueur goblets.
