18th Century Flintlock Hunting Rifle

1 280 EUR

Period : 18th century

Condition : Très bon état

Length : 133

Description

Juxtaposed double-barreled flintlock hunting rifle. This rifle does not bear an apparent signature, which is curious because it is very well made, it is a relatively light rifle, providing very good ergonomics. In addition, it is very well balanced. All these details which must have been studied by its designer give it a "speed" of aiming, a very important criterion for hunting!
