Description

Draped bust of the Madonna early 20th carved in white and translucent alabaster on a cylindrical support in black marble slightly veined hexagonal base. The sculpture has characteristics inspired by the religious works of DONATELLO (1386-1466): lowered face, half eye. closed, draped ... head slightly tilted to the side. The Florentine sculptor who preceded Michelangelo was renowned for the delicacy of his work, the expression of characters as well as his skill of execution.
