Elegant Louis XV chest of drawers in rosewood and amaranth marquetry. Slender silhouette with small arched feet. The frame is in oak and the drawers in softwood. It opens with 5 drawers in 3 rows. The marquetry is of high quality and of good thickness. Very beautiful set of chiseled and gilded bronzes such as: pull handles, keyholes, scraps and clogs. The parquet is topped with an old red marble, formerly restored, with a thickness of 3 cm, reported. Stamped twice on the crossbar and front upright with Jurande hallmark (JME). Parisian model Louis XV period - 18th century Jean Charles ELLAUME: Received Master on November 6, 1754, he opened his workshop on rue Traversière where, for 30 years, he produced quality furniture, in particular chests
