

End Of 18th Colored Merchant Sign

4 200 EUR

Period : 18th century

Condition : Excellent état

Material : Bronze

Description

Description:

Chiseled bronze, natural patina.

This sign is molded in the form of a curved panel with notched angles on which are arranged as a trophy and carried by a tied ribbon the accessories necessary for the work of the painters.

The color merchants did not sell only colors but everything that was involved in their application, from the preparatory drawing to the painting itself. We therefore see a palette, a compass, paintbrushes and brushes, parchment and even a mechanical pencil as well as the support stick. The laurel branches remind us that painting is an art. The sign's plaque is arched indicating that it was entered at an angle, allowing it to be seen from two different streets if the shop was also at
