

Silenus Bacchus Drunk Bronze After The Antique Of Naples Mountable In Lamp Italy

1 400 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Bronze

Length : 62

Width : 27

Description

Large bronze sculpture, first half of the 19th century, dark brown superb patina, representing a drunken Silenus holding a snake in his left arm, after an ancient bronze discovered in Pompeii and kept at the Archaeological Museum of Naples. In fact, this Italian cast is exceptionally fitted with a thread allowing the sculpture to be mounted as a lamp (otherwise to keep in classical sculpture and remove the thread)

Dealer

Ars Longa

Fine Art ? Antique & After the Antique

Mobile : 06 30 55 85 75

14 Rue Beauregard

Paris 75002