

Pair Of Candles In The 19th Century

Description

This exquisite pair of candlesticks exemplifies the refined aesthetic and masterful craftsmanship of the Louis XVI style in 19th-century France. Crafted from a combination of gilded bronze and malachite, these candlesticks showcase a harmonious blend of form and function, typical of the period.

The elegant form of each candlestick is characterized by a slender columnar shaft, likely decorated with delicate fluting or reeding. The shaft supports a circular base, possibly adorned with a delicate floral or geometric motif. Atop the column, a beautifully sculpted urn-shaped cup rests, intended to hold a candle.

The base of each candlestick is likely embellished with a square of malachite, a luxurious and richly colored stone that adds a touch of opulence. The

1 650 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bien

Material : Bronze

Diameter : 13 cm

Height : 35cm

Dealer

Royal Antique

Proudly delivering art and elegance.

Tel : +48 722090633

Mobile : +48 722090633 (WhatsApp)

Warszawa 02-681

malachite base may be further adorned with gilded bronze mounts, featuring intricate motifs of acanthus leaves, floral swags, or possibly even small sculptural elements.

Key Features:

Louis XVI Style: The candlesticks embody the elegance and restraint of the Louis XVI style, a period celebrated for its neoclassical influences and refined aesthetic.

Materials: The combination of gilded bronze and malachite creates a visually striking and luxurious effect, typical of high-end decorative objects from this period.

Intricate Details: The presence of delicate fluting, floral motifs, and possibly small sculptural elements demonstrates the exceptional skill of the artisans involved.

Decorative Potential: These candlesticks would make a stunning addition to any grand residence, serving as a centerpiece on a mantelpiece, console table, or as part of a larger display.