Description

Snuff box for powdered tobacco, snuff, polygonal shape, potted horn, white, honey and brown, built from two shells nailed to each other. A hinged cover gives off a two-lidded opening, which allows two fingers to make "a grip", but controls on exit that the grip is small no mess, most of a voracious grip remains in bottom Doubly greedy: the horn cover is lined with a double wooden stopper that closes tightly, no mess either that way.

It must be said that good tobacco was very expensive at certain times ... A signature on the wooden stopper: undoubtedly F. Bergnaut. Good condition, I have scrubbed the outside and slightly polished, it is very pleasant in hand. Nice work, a little naive, XIXth century. Dimensions: 9.5cm x 5.2cm x 3cm.
